WALCH'S

For Supper Tonight?

In almost every city there is some one restaurant which because of its individuality stands out from among all the rest.

Walch's, on Second street, occupies that position in Sedalia. And the stability of its years of policy of always serving the best food that the market affords has caused to spring up around it a patronage that is aggressive in its loyalty and high standard in character.

That sort of thing never happens by chance.

with him in his illness, and hope for his speedy recovery.

The churches of this city held a union prayer meeting Wednesday evening, the object being to formulate plans for a union camp meeting on the Springs grounds during the month of August. A committee was appointed, consisting of the ministers of the different churches, to present the matter to their respective congregations and report results.

A meeting is to be held in the city hall Saturday, Aug. 8, at 2 p. m., to perfect plans for a boys' encampment at the Springs grounds, Sept. 3, 4 and 5. The arrangements for this are in competent hands, a good program has been prepared and a very interesting three days' session is promised.

The Sweet Springs baseball nine defeated the Concordia team on the diamond at the latter place Sunday afternoon, the score being 5 to 1. The game played previously on the Sweet Springs diamond which was also a victory for the home team, will not be counted, owing to the misunderstanding which arose. Another game will be played soon in this city. The Sweet Springs team will go to California Sunday to play the first nine of that city.

C. B. Smith, son of W. R. Smith and wife, of this city, and Miss Phoebe Miller, daughter of Mrs. R. E. Miller, of Smithton, were united in marriage Wednesday afternoon, July 29, at 2 o'clock at the home of the bride's sister in Sedalia.

Rev. J. F. Caskey performed the ceremony. After a brief visit with relatives here the couple will go to Pueblo, Colo., to reside, where the groom holds a clerical position in the office of the superintendent of the Denver and Rio Grande railway.

The body of Mrs. Alex Daniel, who died at her home in Sedalia Monday, July 27, was brought to this city Tuesday afternoon for burial. Mrs. Daniel had lived in this community all her married life, until the family removed to Sedalia a few years ago. She possessed many lovable qualities of mind and heart, and the memory of her sweet christian character will be a constant inspiration to all who knew her. She is survived by her aged husband, two sons, G. L. and Albert, and two daughters, Misses Minerva and Carrie. A number of Sedalia friends, together with the Rev. Dudley M. Clagett, of the Presbyterian church, accompanied the remains, and the Rev. Mr. Clagett conducted the services. They were met at the station here by many friends of the family, going direct to Fairview cemetery.

A ROUGHWRITERS' MEET

RADICAL THINKERS OF EVERY TYPE ARE ASSEMBLING IN NEW YORK.

THE "NEW THOUGHT" CONVENTION

There Will Be Two Formal Programs Each Day Until August 12. Some of Those Who Will Be in Attendance.

East Aurora, N. Y., Aug. 1.—Radical thinkers of every type, from tea theosophists to philosophical anarchists, are gathering today at the Croft Inn, Elbert Hubbard's hostelry, for the annual New Thought convention and Congress of Rough Writers. Today's services were of a preliminary nature, and the intellectual bonanza and intellectual dynamite will not begin exploding freely until next week.

According to an announcement of Fra Ebertus, the famous leader of the flock, there will be two formal, but not too formal—programs daily until August 12, then there will be discussed ideas concerning the best way to bring about paradise, here and now.

Among those who will add to the oratory of the occasion are Richard Le Gallienne, the poet and story writer; Arthur Henry Lewis, author of the "Wolfville" tales and popular magazine writer; Dr. J. H. Thibault, Denver, editor of "The Stuffed Club"; Prof. William Mahler, the physical culture expert who has recently published a book on "The Science of Sprouts"; the Rev. Harry Frank, the New York radical minister, and the Rev. Benjamin Fay Mills, of the Los Angeles Fellowship.

CHICAGO NEWS LETTER

CHANGE IN THE ORDER OF THE
PRODUCING STATES OF THE COUNTRY.

ARMY OF THE UNITED STATES GETS BUSY

Electricity as a Motive Power Has Solved Another Triumph—Advance in Railway Rates.

Socialist Democrat-Sentinel.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—Increased production of coal in the United States and a change in the order of the producing states, according to statistics which have just been compiled by the government geological survey, Illinois, which in 1906 was third in production is now second, and West Virginia has dropped to third place. Pennsylvania is still first in the list. Illinois' production for 1907, as given in the report, was 51,371,468 short tons, having a spot value of $51,538,212. Export of coal from this country to Canada, Cuba and elsewhere has been steadily growing and this year promises to break all records. Latest government reports show total exports of coal for a period of seven months as 11,652,242 tons, with a value of $35,750,627. Corresponding figures for 1907 showed a total of only 20,099,947 tons, and 1906 was still less. The change in Illinois' position recalls the coal strike of two years ago, as the increased production for 1907 was due to the renewed activity in mining after the recovery from the effects of the suspension on April 1, 1906. During the suspension practically all the important mines of Illinois were idle and 49,792 out of a total of 61,888 miners were unemployed for fifty-eight days. Because of the conditions the production of West Virginia in 1906 exceeded that of Illinois by 1,140,246 short tons, as compared with the affected only a small portion of the mines for about thirty days.

The study of moths which has resulted in the destruction of trees in Buffalo, Detroit and other eastern cities, has at last reached Chicago in its westward course, and the winged pests are now ravaging the foliage in the city parks and in the suburbs. Gardeners and city authorities everywhere are making an effort to save the trees and a war of extermination has been at once. The invaders are a pestiferous kind known as white barked Tussock moths, and according to entomologists they have made unusual headway this year because certain other insects, their natural parasites, have been destroyed by atmospheric conditions. The moths are natives of this country and their favorite tidbits are the leaves and bark of the lindens, soft maples and horse chestnuts. The caterpillar is a gorgeous creature with a coral red head, a yellow body streaked with coral gray and a pair of waving black plumes on its forehead that remind one of the decorations of a funeral hearse. The female moth deposits from 100 to 600 eggs in a gray colored oval mass, which may be seen hanging from twigs of trees. The young caterpillars begin to feed on leaves as soon as they are born. They also prey upon hait and have a habit of girdling small twigs by eating the bark in a circle. The pest is spreading westward at an alarming rate and vigorous steps are being taken to stamp it out. The most effective way to protect trees that are attacked, say those who have studied the matter, is to spray the leaves with a solution of arsenate of lead and water.

Electricity as a motive power, which Mayor Busse has urged, should be used on the trains entering Chicago to do away with the smoke of locomotives, has just scored a new triumph in being substituted for steam in the longest submarine tunnel in the world. This is the St. Clair tunnel under the river connecting the United States and Canada at Port Huron, Mich., and Sarnia, Ont. This is in the direct line from Chicago to Eastern Canada, on the Grand Trunk railroad, and the first electric locomotives have already been put into service at the tunnel on trains running to and from this city. The electrification of the tunnel marks a great step in the progress of electrical science as applied to transportation. The mighty steam moguls which used to handle trains through the tunnel have been replaced with compact, powerful electric engines driven by 250 horsepower alternating current motors. The frames of the new locomotives are similar to those of steam moguls, on the frame there is a cab of structural steel provided with doors at each end and each side. The engines are built as two half units, each with Three driving wheels, and these units can be coupled up to one when desired, with free passage through the doors from one section to another. Inside the cab is the electrical equipment. Practically the entire operation connected with the running of trains is carried on by electricity. A motor-driven air compression is installed in the cab and supplies compressed air not only for the operation of the brakes on the engine and the train service, but also for the working of the various devices on the locomotive for which compressed air is used, including the operation of the trolley bow and the electrically controlled switches, the ringing of the bell, the sanding of the track and the setting of the circuit breakers. The tunnel has been in existence about fifteen years and is now one of the most important gateways of traffic between Canada and the United States, and hereafter will be one of the smokeless ones.

The fight against the proposed advance of railway rates, which centers in this city, progressed another step at the conference of the shippers, and is being conducted with dignity and every amicable effort to change the decision of the railroad executives before more vigorous tactics are employed, is being made. Letters commending the dispassionate letter to President Roosevelt, sent by the shippers, asking his intervention, and the resolutions adopted by the shippers at their meeting in the offices of the Illinois Manufacturers' association, have been received from many quarters. The tolerance of the resolutions and the proposal that the railroad executives had another meeting with the shippers were especially approved, the wording of the resolutions having included the following: "The shippers represented by this conference now propose to the interstate commerce commission the propriety and reasonableness of the proposed increase, and that such increase be held in abeyance until that tribunal has passed upon the question."

ing water, a subject in which the city has shown a $50,000,000 interest by reversing the flow of the Chicago river, soon will be fixed. Figures secured by the American Medical association, whose headquarters are here, show how enormous the total for all the United States must be. Columbus, O., which had 748 cases of typhoid last April, has been taken as an example, medical statisticians of the association adding that the death rate from typhoid is 10 per cent, that courts have held that $10,000 is a fair estimate of the minimum value of a human life, that $50 per case was the average of doctors' bills, and $125 the average cost of funerals, and that, therefore, Columbus paid about $200,000 in April for the privilege of drinking water contaminated with sewage. "Two and a half millions a year is rather a high price for one city to pay for bad water. It would be cheaper to get pure water, no matter how much it costs," says the medical expert's comment. Besides the loss of seventy-five lives, the money expenses which the medical association is seeking to lessen are itemized thus in the illustration used:

Seventy-five deaths ..... $75,000
Loss in earnings ..... 26,328
Funeral expenses ..... 9,375
Medical services ..... 37,400
Nursing ..... 44,800
Total ..... $192,503
That, when our forefathers came to this country and found it well supplied with streams, rivers and lakes of pure and uncontaminated water, in stead of valuing this natural resource they made every possible effort to contaminate it by emptying into every river and lake the sewage and filth of cities and towns, explains why we now drink this mixture and wonder why we have typhoid fever.

An appetite for Chinese dishes, including chop suey, which recently cost Chicago over $2,000,000 a year, is now rapidly diminishing. Four of the big chop suey restaurants, which bore the Oriental names of "King Yen Lo," "Joy Yet Lo," "King Joy Lo," and "Wee Ying," have closed their doors within a week and others are on the verge of it. According to report, the "suey" sauce is either imported or made from imported Chinese sea-buns, but an essayist, discussing the lack of a national taste in food in America, declared that the "Oriental" sauce, like many other curious specialties, is made at the stock yards in Chicago. The sudden change of fickle fancy has left the queued chop suey men puzzled, and with some highly decorated furniture and furnishings on their hands, some being elaborately inlaid with mother of pearl. Concerning the matter of food, the essayist said: "American taste in food has been depraved because of the cosmopolitan population. The chop suey habit, so-called, is the most recent manifestation of American degeneracy in food. Chinese food is not bad. It is scientifically better cooked than the American sausage, but it forms one more link in the chain of degenerate American appetite."

If you use beer for your health or as a tonic, be sure you get the best. The difference in cost is only a trifle, while the benefit to your health is incalculable. There is no use dwelling at length on the merits of Budweiser Beer, same is too well known. Its quality has made it not only the leading beverage of America, but in its triumphant march has conquered in all civilized centers of the globe. Budweiser costs more to make than any other Beer in America, and at that, it outsells any Beer, ten to one, made in the United States.

An Article for Readers of the Democrat-Sentinel by Ida M. Tarbell, Author of "The History of Standard Oil."

BY IDA M. TARBELL,

Author of the "History of Standard Oil."

(Exclusive Service Charities and The Commons Press Bureau.)

New York, Aug. 1.—One of the first disappointing realizations of the immigrant to the United States must be that he has come to a country practically without fete days. Accustomed to a succession of religious and national holidays, all lively in color and movement, to local fairs running over days—even weeks sometimes, to street shows and games and merry-making, a land where not more than six or eight legal holidays are known, and where the church is contented with an annual picnic for the children, must seem poverty-stricken indeed in gaiety, whatever its opportunity for money-making.

There can be no doubt that the variety and number of fete days in foreign countries go a great way to ridding up to the laboring class for material hardships. Here there is no such compensation for new and often vastly more perplexing hardships. Even those among us who have appreciated the difficulties of the immigrant's transplanting and have tried to smooth them away have given little thought to this side of the matter.

The tendency, indeed, has been to frown on the new-comer's efforts to introduce his own frolics and festivities as un-American, and to impress upon him that it is work and not play which counts in the new land. We have been willing to improve him, but unwilling to amuse him, even to let him amuse himself.

The result has been that he has dropped his merry-makings and even come to despise them and has substituted far less attractive and too often far less innocent amusements.

The bar room and the dance hall are poor substitutes, indeed, for the open air cafe and the village fair. We Americans lose no less than the foreigner loses by this. One of the most precious things he brings us is his capacity for gaiety, expressed in picturesque dances and customs.

We are always willing to travel far enough in Europe to study these expressions; indeed, the popular fete is one of the things the tourist remembers longest, yet we have done almost nothing to encourage the preservation here of any of its features, although we have tens of thousands of different European peoples among whom it thrives.

It is our long indifference to this side of the immigrant's life that gives peculiar interest and importance to the chief features of the newly instituted Chicago play festival, which is conducted annually by the Play-ground association of Chicago.

At the second festival, June 20, held, as was last year's, in Ogden park, and with the cooperation of the South park commission, the dances of people after people—Poles, Irish, Dutch, Italian, Lithuanian, Greek—were given, in costume for the most part.

It was really a great international celebration. It must have stirred the pride of the people represented, and it ought to have aroused the Americans present to a sense of what we are losing in trying to suppress such expressions of nationality.

For myself, I have rarely seen a popular fete which charmed and interested me more. It has the making of a unique festival, one which can not be duplicated in any city of the country, for where is there so great a variety of peoples established as in Chicago?

It is to be hoped that the management will realize that the important features of the festival are the dances, and will give either the afternoon or the evening (preferably the evening, of course), entirely to them.

This year various athletic feats were mixed with them, to the loss of both. It goes without saying that the dances should be done in costume for the sake of keeping alive the pride and interest in them. The picturesque and suitability of the native dress is too often quite forgotten by those to whom it belongs, in their eagerness to "look like other folks," which more often than not is to look pitifully dowdy.

A little sympathetic appreciation might encourage the elders, at least,

A Bold Step.

To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so has published broadcast and openly to the whole world, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines. Thus he has taken his numerous patrons and patients into his full confidence. Thus too he has removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merits, and made them Remedies of Known Composition.

By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the keenest scrutiny. Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomach, liver or biliousness and all catarrhal diseases wherever located, have printed upon it in English, French and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a small book has been compiled from numerous standard medical works, of all the different schools of practice, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing in the strongest terms, and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card by letter, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and requesting the same. From this little book will be learned that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotics, mineral agents or other poisons or injurious ingredients, and that they are made from native medicinal roots of great value; also that some of the most valuable ingredients contained in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for women, are the same as those which long years ago, by the Indians for similar ailments affecting their squaws. In fact, one of the most valuable medicinal plants entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was known to the Indians as "Squaw-Weed." Our knowledge of the uses of not a few of our most valuable native medicinal plants, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. to try to preserve in their families models of their native dress and ornaments, a family treasure, to be passed from generation to generation.

It may be that the dances of the Chicago play festival will be a starting point among our foreign citizens themselves of a desire to preserve in their families and groups something of the flavor of their native land.

They bring here a wealth of peculiar handicrafts, customs, songs, dances, folk lore, all hallowed by traditions. The whole country is richer for the preservation of all these expressions of nationality.

In one way or another our foreign-born citizens have been made to feel that their ways were not respected nor wanted here. They have soon become ashamed of them in consequence. The Chicago play festival says:

"We do want you to perpetuate here whatever in your native life you can get joy from. Your dances in costume preserve in a way the spirit of your race. Do not forget them or neglect them. Cultivate them, and once a year let us share your pleasure in them."

WILL BE HERE AUGUST 7

THE CARL HAGENBECK AND THE GREAT WALLACE SHOWS ON ABOVE DATE.

ARRIVE FROM THE STATE CAPITAL

The Circus Features Are of the Very Highest Class—Street Parade Will Be an Inspiring Feature.

The Carl Hagenbeck and Great Wallace Shows have spread a drag-net over the amusement and zoological universe and hauled in the ropes; have made a scientific assortment of the great catch, retained all that was wonderfully stirring or sensational and cast the refuse to other shows. They will be in Sedalia, Friday, August 7.

If there is anything really worth while in the circus realm today which has been overlooked, the newspapers in the large cities have missed it, for they have pronounced the Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus as the world's perfect show. Every field of possible innovation has been invaded in the consolidation of these greater shows! Every feature which would bring delight to young and old America is seen with the United Shows! The determined purpose was to make the Hagenbeck-Wallace Shows the largest and greatest of traveling amusement institutions, and at the same time make a radical departure from all set rules in the organization of a circus.

The big feature with these shows is the Hagenbeck trained wild beasts—twenty animal acts which have gained him fame the world over. The English vocabulary does not contain a word which describes the performance of these wild animals.

The circus features are of the very highest class. The horses are the finest ever carried with a tented enterprise. The clowns are the funniest; elephants the largest; sea lions the best trained; acrobats the most supple; aerialists the most daring; riders the most wonderful; in fact, every feature stands out as best.

Superlatives are also necessary to describe the beautiful street parade which leaves the show grounds daily at 10 a. m., in which 400 well matched dapples gray horses are attached to the band wagons, open carriages and massive carved floats. The parade alone is worth coming miles to see. Remember the date, Sedalia, Friday, August 7.

S.S.S. HEALS SORES AND ULCERS

Sores and Ulcers are indications of impure blood. They show that the circulation has become infected with germs and poisons, which are being constantly discharged into the open place to irritate the delicate nerves, tissues and surrounding flesh and keep the sore in a state of inflammation and disease. Whether these impurities in the blood are the result of some debilitating sickness, an old taint from a former disease, or whether it is hereditary bad blood, there is but one way to cure sores and ulcers, and that is to purify the blood. Washes, salves, lotions, etc., are often beneficial because of their cleansing, antiseptic effects, but nothing applied to the surface can reach the blood, where the real cause is, and therefore cannot cure. S. S. S. is the remedy for sores and ulcers of every kind. It gets down to the very bottom of the trouble and removes every trace of impurity or poison, and makes a lasting cure. S. S. S. changes the quality of the circulation, so that instead of feeding the diseased parts with impurities, it nourishes and heals the irritated, inflamed flesh and causes the ulcer to fill in with healthy tissue by supplying it with pure, rich blood. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write.

RECENT LIABILITY ACT

PASSED BY CONGRESS IS IN EFFECT THROUGHOUT THE LAND TODAY.

BE PAID IF HURT WHILE AT WORK

Bill Also Assists the Widow or Children of Any Navy Yard Employee Who Succumbs While in Uncle Sam's Service.

Washington, Aug. 1.—After a crusade which has been carried on for years, employees of Uncle Sam now have protection from their employer against injuries sustained in the service of the government. The liability act passed by the last congress becomes fully effective today and hereafter Uncle Sam's men engaged in hazardous work will be compensated while incapacitated by injury.

Under the provisions of this act any person employed by the United States as an artisan or laborer in any of its manufacturing plants, arsenals or navy yards, or in the construction of river and harbor fortification work, in the reclamation of arid lands or the management and control of the same, or in hazardous employment under the isthmian canal commission, shall be entitled to the same pay that he would be earning at work in the event he is hurt and has to cease labor. It is provided, however, that no compensation shall be paid under this act where the injury is due to the negligence or misconduct of the employee injured, nor unless said injury shall continue for more than fifteen days. All questions of negligence or misconduct shall be determined by the secretary of commerce and labor.

It is further provided in the act, to assist the widow or children of any navy yard employee who shall succumb to injuries received in the service of the government.

The bill says in section No. 2: "That if any artisan or laborer so employed shall die during the said year by reason of such injury received in the course of such employment, leaving a widow, or a child or children under 16 years of age, or a dependent parent, such widow and child, or children and dependent parent shall be entitled to receive in such portions and under such regulations as the secretary of commerce and labor may prescribe, the same amount, for the remainder of the said year, that said artisan or laborer would be entitled to receive as pay if such employee were alive and continued to be employed. Provided, that, if the widow shall die at any time during said year her portion of said amount shall be added to the amount to be paid to the remaining beneficiaries under the provisions of this section, if there be any."

The act goes on to set forth that the superior in charge of any navy yard, arsenal or any other government department, shall report promptly all accidents to the head of the bureau or independent office, and the report shall pass through the regular channels to the department of commerce and labor, where it shall, in due course of time, reach the secretary, who is vested with authority to make investigations and adjustment.

In case of any navy yard accident which shall result in the death of the victim, the persons entitled to compensation under this act shall file affidavits of their relationship with the secretary of the department of commerce and labor within ninety days after such death, together with a certificate of the attending physician. In case of incapacity for work lasting for more than fifteen days the injured party desiring to take the benefit of this act, shall, within a reasonable period after the expiration of such time, file with his official superior, to be forwarded through regular channels, an affidavit setting forth the grounds for his claim for compensation, to be accompanied by a certificate of the attending physician as to the cause and nature of the injury, and probable duration of the period of incapacity.

It is further stipulated that any injured persons shall submit as often as is required by the secretary of commerce and labor, at least once in six months, to a medical examination to be provided and paid for under the direction of the secretary of commerce and labor.

KWANG-HSU IS 36 TODAY

THERE WILL BE JOY AND MERRY-MAKING IN THE CHINA-TOWN DISTRICT.

BIRTHDAY OF IMPERIAL MAJESTY

Although He Is Honored by His Subjects, He Is Perhaps the Most Powerless of the Monarchs of the Entire World.

New York, Aug. 1.—There will be joy and merry-making in Chinatown tomorrow and the dragon flag will float from many staffs along Mott and Pell streets, in honor of the birthday of his imperial majesty, Kwang-Hsu. Although the emperor of the celestial empire has done little reigning in the thirty-six years of his existence, loyal Chinamen still look upon him as their real ruler and celebrate the anniversary of his birth, August 2, 1872.

Although Kwang-Hsu is honored by his subjects, he is perhaps the most powerless of the world's monarchs, and is wholly dominated in all his actions by the aged dowager empress. He is said to be an intelligent young man, with progressive ideas. If he ever succeeds in taking over the reins of government from old Tzihsu it is likely that there will be many changes in China.

Emperor Kwang-Hsu nominally assumed full control of the government in 1889. He was in favor of reform and in 1898 issued some decrees in that direction, which resulted, in September of that year, in the restoration of the regency of the empress dowager, who relegated the emperor to the background and has kept him there rigorously ever since.

The empress dowager is so certainly the ruler of China that when the usual imperial reception is given to the diplomatic corps at the New Year, she sits on the throne and the emperor meekly occupies a chair on a dais noticeably lower than that on which the empress dowager is enthroned.

While there have often been rumors of the retirement of the empress dowager and the ascendancy of Kwang-Hsu well-informed Chinamen assert that they do not expect this to happen for many years to come. Although she is now well past the proverbial three score and ten, Tzihsu is as active and well preserved as many women of 40 or 50. According to present appearances, Kwang-Hsu will be emperor in name only for many years to come.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 1.—A conference will be held at the Planters' hotel tomorrow between Governor Folk, Adjutant General of the National Guard James A. DeArmond and Dr. R. B. Denny, foreman of the St. Louis county grand jury, at which it will be determined whether the state militia is necessary to stamp out lawlessness in St. Louis county.

Governor Folk arrived in St. Louis last night from the Montgomery county old settlers' reunion at New Florence, where he spoke, and deprecated his lack of power to remove from office the incompetent sheriff and prosecuting attorney of St. Louis county. The governor expressed himself tonight as determined to force respect for the state statutes by the law breakers of St. Louis county. He declared that if the officers of the county continued to wink at open violations of the Sunday and other laws, he would take a hand in an no uncertain manner.

The aid of the state militia is offered to the grand jury of St. Louis county by the governor, and it is probable the governor will make a personal inspection of the county today, accompanied by Gen. DeArmond and Dr. Denny.

"If I do not go myself, Gen. DeArmond will," he said tonight. "I want him to find out for himself just what the conditions are in the county and to determine just where the militia men will be most needed in the event that it is decided that their presence in the county is necessary to force respect for the law."

"The governor has no power in this state to remove prosecuting attorneys or sheriffs," continued Governor Folk. "The legislature was asked to enact a law giving the state power to enforce the liquor laws in St. Louis county, but it failed to do so. The officials have been urged to take effective action without avail. The assistant attorney general has been at work in the county, but the outlawry seems to continue unabated. The grand jury is composed of good men and appears to be doing all it can. This outlawry must be stopped and if drastic measures are used it will be because the situation requires such measures. The grand jury will have the full power of the state to back it up and the National Guard is at the service of that body. The outlaw liquor sellers in the county appear to be determined to have a test of strength with the state and they will be accommodated. If the steps indicated must be taken, these lawbreakers who have been violating the laws of the state will have only themselves to blame."

"If the report in the Republic of July 14 as to what the grand jury found in their tour of the county is true, and I have no reason to doubt it, it should remove all doubt as to conditions in the county being serious enough for firm and effective action against an insolent, impudent gang of outlaws."

"There can be no measures too severe to meet conditions like that and to bring such scoundrels to justice. If the local officials will not uphold the law, then I will by every means in my power."

I propose to stamp out this defiance of the laws of the state. St. Louis county should not be confused with St. Louis city, where the governor has the power to enforce the law through his appointment of the police and excise commissioner. In the city the laws are absolutely enforced, through these officials. In the county there is no such authority and the only thing the governor can do to uphold the law there when the local officials fail is to use the national guard arm of the state, upon being called by the proper local authority. These lawbreakers can take notice that if the county officials allow them to go on, then I will take a hand in the matter in a no uncertain way."

Creve Coeur Lake, girted by wooded hills and fanned by the summer breeze, was the scene of ribald debauchery last Sunday. Women danced without restraint of modesty, and young girls were taught to take their first drink. Without an effort at concealment intoxicating liquors were sold at six places to all who sought them and none were refused on account of youth. Similar conditions prevailed in other sections of St. Louis county. Reports on South Broadway, Wellston, University Heights and other places were wide open and whiskey and beer were on sale. One of the most popular places last Sunday was a floating dance pavilion on the "Lake of the Broken Heart."

One one side of the float was a bar

IS A YOUTHFUL FORGER

BOY OF 14 ACCUSED OF FORGING
BROTHER'S NAME TO SEVERAL CHECKS.

HE HAS LEFT FOR PARTS UNKNOWN

Crime Was Not Discovered Until Today,
When Officers Were Notified of Alleged Crime by Bank Official.

The police and constabulary are searching for a 14-year-old son of C. W. Estabrook, a Missouri Pacific shopman, who is wanted on the charge of forging the name of his brother, Clyde Estabrook, a clerk at the Red Cross pharmacy, to twenty-five checks, more or less, for small amounts on a local bank.

The aggregate amount of the forged checks is over $60 and represented a saving made by Clyde Estabrook, with which he expected to complete a course of schooling.

The discovery of the repeated forgeries was made by the cashier of the bank Saturday, Clyde Estabrook, who is about 18 years of age, had accumulated about $65 in the bank.

The younger brother forged his older brother's name to each check and cashed the same at an East Sedalia grocery firm. Suspicion was aroused at the bank after several checks had been cashed, and on inquiring, the bank officials were informed by the groceryman that the checks were all right, as he knew the boy and his family.

Nothing more was said about them until Saturday, when the elder Estabrook started to balance his account, and discovered that out of his $65 savings he had only $1.45 left. Active steps are being taken to apprehend the guilty boy.

COMMON LAW WIFE LOST

WANTED SHARE OF THE ESTATE
COLLARD.

SHE WEPT AT POINTED QUESTIONS

She and Collard Had Lived Together
as Mr. and Mrs. Dave Williams—Plaintiff Lost Case and Then She Fainted.

A case that many readers of the Democrat-Sentinel are familiar with was written of as follows in the Jefferson City Post of Friday afternoon:

In the circuit court today the attention of the court was taken up in finishing the case of Annie C. Collard vs. N. C. Burch, administrator of the estate of J. D. Collard, a Missouri Pacific conductor, who died here suddenly last March.

In this case Mrs. Annie C. Collard was the plaintiff and asked the court to allow her a widow's dower in the estate of her late husband.

The evidence in the case showed that Mr. and Mrs. Collard lived together in Kansas City as husband and wife under the name of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Williams, and later on went under the name of Collard.

Mrs. Collard claimed that they were married on February 24, 1904, but did not produce any record to prove the same.

Mrs. Collard remained in the court room nearly the entire day, and when the attorneys for the plaintiff were a little rough she wept silently and seemed to be much affected.

The jury returned a verdict for the defendant. Mrs. Collard fainted on hearing the verdict, and was carried into W. S. Pope's office.

At the time of going to press she was still unconscious, under the care of Dr. Aldridge.

MISS LOGAN HOSTESS

Lawn Party Given in Honor of Guests
Last Night.

The Logan home on West Broadway was the scene of a very delightful entertainment last night given by Miss Frances for her guests and schoolmates at Hollins (Va.) institute. Misses Rebecca Porter, Memphis, Tenn.; Katherine Mockbee, Cincinnati; and Adaire Crane, Ft. Smith, Ark. Miss Logan was assisted in entertaining by her sister, Miss Agnes Scott.

The party was given on the lawn, which was lighted with a score or more of Japanese lanterns of various designs. A barn dance and fancy dancing, given on a large tarpolin, furnished the chief diversion, while a booth sheltering an occult reader provided much amusement. Music was furnished by a string band.

Punch and sandwiches were served. The guests included the younger society folk of the city. Miss Logan's guests are young lady school mates whom she met while attending school at Hollins institute at Hollins, Virginia.

Money in Several Purses
and Also in a Bank.

St. Joseph, Mo., Aug. 1.—While taking an inventory of the estate of the late M. J. Thompson, at Agency, yesterday, Public Administrator James A. Gibson found $205 in gold and $184 in currency in the dead man's trunk. The money was in six different purses, scattered among a miscellaneous collection of effects.

There also was a bank book showing a deposit of $400 and a certificate of deposit for $1,000. Mr. Gibson estimated the estate, consisting of money and personal property exclusively, to be worth $1,957.

Mr. Thompson, who had been assistant foreman of the stirrup factory at Agency for six years, died suddenly of heart failure while on his way home from a ball game Wednesday.

He was a bachelor, 55 years of age. The body was sent to Columbus, Ky., for interment.

KILLED WIFE AND BABE

WHO HAD ATTEMPTED HIS CAPTURE.

STOLE HORSE AND BUGGY; FLED

Was Being Trained at the Time by Officers for the Cold Blooded Murder of a Man in Illinois
on July Fourth.

Tulsa, Ok., Aug. 1.—Clay Harris, a white man, here this morning shot and instantly killed his wife, part Indian, his one-year-old baby, and fatally wounded Walter Van, driver of an express wagon, who attempted to capture him. Harris escaped, after stealing a horse and buggy. A posse was soon formed and started in pursuit.

Harris came to Tulsa last Thursday, for murdering a man July 4, and Illinois officers were trailing him at the time of the murder here. After shooting a man at Fairfield, Harris escaped. The man died four days later. The state of Illinois offered a reward of $500 for Harris' arrest, and officers have since been following him.

Harris came to Tulsa last Thursday. He forced his wife at the point of a revolver to sell her Indian land, took the proceeds and departed for Claremore, Ok., after ordering her to meet him there, but Mrs. Harris did not leave Tulsa.

Officers who had traced him this far went on to Claremore. Harris outwitted them and came back to Tulsa at midnight last night. He hid in his house and waited for the return in the morning of his wife, who had spent the night at the home of her father, Chauncey Owens, a wealthy half-breed Indian.

When the woman entered her yard this morning, carrying her baby in her arms, Harris approached, gun in hand. Mrs. Harris ran screaming to a neighbor's, but before assistance could arrive he had emptied his revolver into the body of the woman and also the baby.

Mrs. Harris was shot three times in the breast, dying almost instantly, while one bullet pierced the baby's heart.

Walter Van attempted to pursue Harris, but he turned upon him and fired. The first shot took effect, and Van fell, probably fatally wounded.

Harris then forcibly took the buggy and horse of a collector standing by, and after firing an ineffectual shot at the collector, drove off toward the hills. Within half an hour a posse had been organized and started in pursuit. Several women neighbors of the Harris family were eyewitnesses of the double murder.

A STUDENT IN SEDALIA

DR. L. E. WHITNEY, WHOSE DEAD BODY WAS FOUND NEAR CARTHAGE, MO.

NOW BELIEVED HE WAS MURDERED

He Married Miss Jennie Kendall, of Windsor, Mo., in 1882—Coroner's Jury Has Adjourned
for Seven Days.

Dr. L. E. Whitney, of Carthage, whose dead body was found near there last Thursday, studied medicine with Dr. D. T. Abell in Sedalia more than thirty years ago, and is well known to many of the older residents of the city.

Dr. Whitney married Miss Jennie Kendall, of Windsor, Mo., in 1882. The widow and two daughters survive.

A Carthage dispatch to Saturday's Globe-Democrat gives additional facts to those published in the Democrat-Sentinel Friday, as follows:

The killing of Dr. L. E. Whitney is still a mystery, although evidence before the coroner's jury today, tends strongly toward the belief that the man was lured to the country by a false call and slugged. The doctor's medicine case was found today seventy yards west of where the buggy stood, under which he lay unconscious and helpless all Wednesday night until 6 o'clock Thursday morning, when he was found.

The attending physician testified that the doctor never recovered consciousness, and the autopsy this morning showed that death was caused by concussion of the brain from a blow on the head. Other evidence developed that citizens out riding met the doctor going east two miles out, following a closely curtained buggy occupied by a man and woman. The same buggy was seen early in the evening near the Whitney residence. The coroner's jury visited the scene where the doctor was found, returned to town and adjourned for one week. The sheriff and other officers are bending their energies to locate the persons in the curtained buggy, a circumstance so unusual, considering the extremely hot weather when all other vehicles were open as much as possible.

WAS IT CASE OF SUICIDE

A Well Known Kansas City Horse
Trader Found Dead.

Burlington, Ia., August 1.—Dan Lamasuri, of Kansas City, a former horse trader, and well known horse trader, who, with his wife, was visiting Peter Adolphson in this city, was found dead in the woods near here yesterday.

A stab wound in the abdomen and an open knife clamped in the dead man's hand supports the theory of suicide.

It is believed he became delirious from the heat and wandered away. A brother is engaged in the horse business in Olathe, Kan.

"LONG LIVE THE SULTAN!"

Placards Thus Reading orn Down at Adrianpole.

Constantinople, Aug. 1.—The situation at Adrianpole, the headquarters of the Second army corps, is giving rise to much concern.

A strong feeling there against the sultan has been evidenced by the tearing down of placards bearing the words, "Long live the Sultan," while at a meeting held in the public gardens a protest was raised against cheers being given for the sultan.

WILL EXPEND $35,000.00

QUEEN CITY TELEPHONE CO. IS NOW GETTING READY TO BRANCH OUT.

GET NEW EQUIPMENT THROUGHOUT

Modern Switchboard to Be Installed by October 1, and Soon After That the Service Will Be Equal to the Best.

The new style of telephones to be installed by the Queen City Telephone company, which plant was purchased recently by local capitalists from out-of-town parties, are now on exhibition at several business houses throughout the city and are universally conceded to be the most convenient and modern yet seen in Sedalia.

The number on hand at present is limited, but an order has been placed for over one thousand such phones, and by October 1 the order will have been filled.

The enthusiasm that has developed by reason of local financiers purchasing the Queen City Telephone company is wonderful, and within a few weeks Sedalia will have in perfect operation one of the finest telephone systems in this section of the country.

The new switchboard to be installed is now in course of construction at the plant of the Sterling Electric company at Lafayette, Ind., and will be completed and erected by October 1, at which time the new telephone company will be in full operation, unless unforeseen delays arise. The switchboard is the latest, most modern and up-to-date now being manufactured. The cost of it and the equipment, instruments, etc., will be about $35,000.

The new board will be of quarter-sawn oak, highly polished, of a double relay common battery type. It is divided into twelve sections, and will extend from the front portion of the third floor of the present quarters of the telephone office to the rear of the building.

In addition to the new switch board, a chief operator's desk will be installed, and by reason of the magnitude of the board the company's offices, manager's office and accounting department will be moved across the hall to the third floor of the building adjoining.

The Sterling Electric company has been granted a thirty days' extension of time for the completion of the board, but it will require at least six weeks to install the new equipment.

While visiting the family of W. J. Crouch at Lafayette, Ind., recently, W. H. Cloney made a personal visit to the plant of the Sterling Electric company and speaks in the highest terms of the plant and the goods manufactured by it.

"The company occupies a three-story brick building, covering practically 150,000 feet of flooring," said Mr. Cloney, in speaking of his visit at the plant, "and is fully equipped to manufacture electrical devices of all kinds, and also to handle their own cabinet work."

"In addition to the manufacture of switchboards, the company manufactures telegraph instruments, police and fire alarm boxes and special vault equipment boxes for the Western Union Telegraph company."

"At present the company is manufacturing one dozen government devices for the signal corps of the United States army, and when a government inspector recently inspected the work he pronounced it the best ever shipped to Washington."

"The Sterling people have an installing system at Lima, Peru, South America, similar to the one to be installed in Sedalia, and I feel confident in saying that the new switchboard of the Queen City Telephone company will reach the standard of any switchboard in the country."

In a letter to a well known Sedalian, Mr. Crouch refers to the Sterling company and commends it very highly. He also visited the plant where the switchboard is being manufactured, and was highly pleased with the outlook for the new telephone company in this city.

DEMOCRACY VERSUS DEMAGOGY.

Democracy never has proposed,
and never will propose to put a dollar in one man's pocket by taking a dollar from another man's pocket.
Such a proposition is utterly repel-lant to democracy. But the genius of democracy has devoted itself to the task of equipping every man to make a living. Such equipment is the heritage of that democratic sentiment expressed in "equal opportunity."
The divine spark that has given immortality to the Declaration of Independence is the glowing creed of equality that vitalizes and illuminates it. That sort of equality does not mean the stagnant average that would ensue as a result of pro rata distribution of material things. The equality contended for by democracy is the privilege, the opportunity, the God-given right of the individual to do and to become, according to his talents.

Under the democracy which inspired the constitution of this republic the standard of living has been raised to a higher, finer average than has been attained elsewhere in the world's history. The standard of living is not defined in the food or the furnishings of the home, nor by the value of the foot frontage of the lot.
The standard of living in this country has attained its high average because, under democracy, the people's capacity to live has been improved and uplifted. And no one thing has contributed more to the expanding and developing of the people's capacity to live than the educational obligations imposed and the educational privileges conferred. The most essential difference between a people living under a constitutional democracy and a people living under any other form of government is the difference in educational opportunity. Enlightenment is the native and time-recorded foe of complacent servitude. The land of the school house is the land of democracy.

No more winning appeal could be made in Missouri by a candidate for preferment at the hands of the people than the announcement of a policy for the betterment and increase of the schools of the people. It touches the heart of the self-sacrificing mother who dreams and toils
for the day of better things for her children. It speaks in Godly voice to the father, the star of whose life
is ambition for the son and daughter. It addresses a fair challenge to all men and to all women in the visions of whose patriotism are pictures of a grander and more splendid racial achievement than have yet been hung in the galleries of the nation.

But that such proposal should be disfigured with the hideous stipulation that the betterment of our common schools shall be affected at the cost of destroying or impairing our State University makes it, indeed, a loathsome advance and raises a proper question as to the sincerity of its proponent. Such stipulation makes the appeal banalistic rather than benevolent; it is the wife of the demagogue masquerading as the spirit of democracy.

It is impossible to believe there is any prejudice among the people of Missouri against our State University. The people's liberal policy to that institution belies such assumption. And the reward Missouri has reaped in material, moral and civic betterment by way of dividends
from her investment in the State University is too imposing and convincing to give warrant for supposing that that policy shall be abated,
even though the advocate of such abatement elects to call himself the heir to the house of Missouri politics, known as Civic Righteousness, and the exhortations of his democracy be larded with booze.

The land of the school house is the land of democracy. But, likewise, the land of the university, whose
student body comes from the homes
of the people, is the land of democracy. And the man who would strike down the latter for a political advantage would strike down the former for a political advantage, for there is nothing sacred to the demagogue excepting as it may be made to serve his purpose.

It would be a foolish thing, at least from the viewpoint of successful politics, for a party in Missouri
to nominate as a candidate for governor a man avowedly hostile to the State University. On such platform
no man can be elected governor.
And surely no man ought to be elected on such platform. The protagonist of such a theory is at variance with the Missouri of today, and an enemy of the Missouri of tomorrow.

Let us glance for a minute at our State University. By State University we don't mean faculty or curriculum, campus or ivied wall, but we mean the young men and young women who are being educated there.
Without specific knowledge, but trusting to common sense as a good working hypothesis, we assume that the presence of not less than 90 per cent of those students represents sacrifice and hard economies in the home from which they come. Here and there the scion of wealth may support himself in strange and valet-garbed garb, but he is the glittering and amusing exception. Oftener here and there you will find the sturdy,
ambitious, determined young chap,
making his own way through college.

This is what we're trying to get at: Missouri University, like most of our American colleges, is not the pastime for the sons of the rich,
but on the contrary, is the opportunity for the sons of the poor or moderately well to do.

That's what Missouri University is from its roster of today. What the University is in respect to the service it has rendered the state must be learned from the roll of its alumni; and the man who begrudges the money appropriated for that institution should take the time to call that roll and thus acquaint himself with the enormity of the crime he recommends.

Or if he has not the time to do that he might, with large profit,
read the speech delivered by James A. Reed, of Kansas City, at Barbee park Saturday night which speech has occasioned this comment.—Joplin Globe.

headed editorial, among other
things, said:
"St. Louis and The Governorship.

the obvious disadvantages of the direct primary system, their choice will be limited in this case to four candidates.

HICKS
THE GROCER

Ball, of Pike county; Henry F. Stapel, of Rockport; William S. Cowherd and William H. Wallace, of Kansas City. All have been heard in their own behalf, and the Post-Dispatch has endeavored to give them a fair and adequate representation in its columns.

"It appears that Judge Wallace and Mr. Stapel have assumed extreme positions on questions of excise and Sunday laws, the former standing for an excess of liberality and the latter for a wide open state. While both are to be commended for their honesty and zeal, the candidacy of neither should appeal with much force to the people of St. Louis.

Leaving these gentlemen out of the question, we have to deal only with Messrs. Cowherd and Ball, the one an able and experienced man and the other celebrated chiefly as an unsuccessful aspirant for office and a stump speaker of some natural force,
who enjoys considerable popularity.
"In everything that is looked for in high office, Mr. Cowherd is emphatically to be preferred over Mr.
Ball. He has more ability. He has had more experience in public life.
He is Mr. Ball's superior in character and in dignity. He would make a better governor than Mr. Ball could ever hope to become."

SOMETHING FOR VOTERS TO KNOW.

Very few people understand fully
the provisions of the primary law,
under which the selection of candidates will be held next Tuesday.

Especially is there much misunderstanding as to the length to which the voter may go in scratching his ticket. The law stipulates that each voter must select the ticket of the party to which he belongs and express his preference for the candidates on that ticket for the office to which each aspires. In reference to voting for some one whose name is not on the party ticket which is to be cast, the law reads: "If any elector shall write upon his ticket the name of any person who is a candidate for the same office on some other ticket than that upon which his name is so written, this ballot shall be counted for such person only as a candidate of the party upon whose ticket his name is so written, and shall in no case be counted for such person as a candidate
upon any other ticket."

As a result of this provision of the law, if a democrat should erase the name of that party's candidate for any office and should insert the name of some republican running for the same office, then that particular vote is lost for that one office, as it cannot be counted with the votes cast
for the same man on the republican ticket, and would as a result be of no value to the candidate receiving it.

The balance of the ticket, however,
would be counted. This is the opinion sent out from the office of the secretary of state, and it will no doubt verify the actions of the judges and clerks of the primaries.

It is well to call attention to the fact that at the primary election to be held Tuesday, candidates for the United States senate are not to be voted on. That question is to be decided at the regular election in November.

THE THIRD HOUSE

Editor Democrat-Sentinel.

In your "Third House" department,
a few days ago, a correspondent demanded a statement of the position of the various legislative candidates relative to the selection of United States senator. Permit me the use of your space to briefly state my position:

If nominated and elected as representative of Pettis county I stand pledged to vote for the democratic candidate for United States senator who receives a majority of the democratic votes of Missouri cast at the November election in the pending senatorial contest. Both Governor Polk and Senator Stone sanction that interpretation of the law and have publicly expressed themselves to that effect.

In your issue of July 30, "Third House" department, a correspondent
signing himself "A Voter" calls upon the legislative candidates to clearly define their positions relative to the separate coach law for whites and negroes, or, as it is commonly designated, the "Jim Crow" law.

If elected representative of Pettis county I stand pledged to work and vote for the enactment of a separate coach law, my reasons for which action, will be publicly explained at the proper time.—M. V. Carroll.

Editor Democrat-Sentinel.

Having first ascertained that the communication in your issue of Thursday, July 30, signed "A Voter," came from a representative citizen of this county, I take pleasure in answering the same.

Personally I favor what is known as the separate coach or "Jim Crow"
law. Believing that a very large majority of the people of the Fifteenth senatorial district concur with my views on the subject, I shall if elected to represent the district, support
a bill enacting such a law.

I am informed that in a recent issue of the Democrat-Sentinel, during my absence from the city, the question was asked as to attitude of candidates in the matter of the election of a United States senator. In answer to this I desire to say that if elected to the state senate will vote for that democratic candidate for the United States senate who receives a majority of the votes cast in the state at the senatorial primary to be held on the same day as the November election. Respectfully—Orville M.
Barnett.

The July Sale of Stamps.

Postmaster E. E. Coddling Saturday
forwarded to Washington, D. C., his report of the month's business at the postoffice here, and it certainly shows that business in Sedalia is all right.

The month's sales of postage stamps, stamped envelopes and postal cards aggregated $4,216.82 as against $2,190.14 for July, 1907, or an increase of $1,126.68.

If Mr. Coddling can keep up this lick, it means that he is likely to have another $100 added to his salary for the next year.

Made 3,000 Pounds of Butter.

Three thousand pounds of butter
were manufactured at the plant of the Sweet Springs Creamery company Saturday, the largest number of pounds ever manufactured in a single day since the establishment of the firm.

The average quantity manufactured
is between 2,000 and 2,500 pounds,
and the greater portion of Saturday's turnout will be shipped to Chicago,
where a better price is commanded
for the product.

Were Beaten at Pilot Grove.

A picked baseball team of this city
crossed bats with a team at Pilot Grove Saturday afternoon and met defeat gracefully by a score of 16 to 11. "Red" Chum was the twirling artist for the local team and Roscoe Sutton's superb playing in the early stages of the game was the leading feature of the exhibition.

Families Are Very Needy.

Two families, each consisting of four members, are destitute in two repair-needed rooms in the vicinity of Provisions and donations for the help of the families will be thankfully received.

A Clean Campaigner.

If all the candidates were like Hon.
E. E. Johnston, there would be no mud-slinging in this campaign. Mr.
Johnston, by his quiet and modest manner, made friends wherever he has been. He speaks respectfully of the other candidates and such little traits, coupled with his peculiar fitness for the office of representative,
will doubtless make him a winner.

Celebrated His Birthday.

Leonard E. Johnson, owner of the former Baumgartner barber shop,
yesterday celebrated the thirty-eighth anniversary of his birth. "Len" is a county, as clever a gentleman as one will meet in a day's travel, and the Democrat-Sentinel trusts that he may be spared to celebrate many more anniversaries.

LETTER FROM CONGRESSMAN HAMLIN.

Springfield, Mo., July 29th, 1908.

To my Friends:—On account of the serious illness of my daughter, I was compelled to quit the campaign and return home, and it is probable I shall not be able to visit your community before the primaries.

My opponent is making a very remarkable campaign against me; remarkable principally, because it consists entirely of a vicious attack upon me, based upon falsehood. From the first, I have steadily declined to engage with him in his "mud-slinging" campaign. I feel that the day for such methods has long since passed in this country and I believe that the good people of this district will endorse my action in that regard. He seems not to regard the truth, but tells anything that occurs to him at the time and which he thinks may get him a vote.

He tells one thing at one place, and a different thing at another place; so it is impossible for me to answer them all, if I were disposed to notice them enough to try. It seems to me that the people of this district know me well enough, that it should not be necessary for me to go over the district defending myself against a man, who is not, never was, and I do not believe, ever will be a democrat. His only purpose in this campaign is to try to stir up trouble in our party and thereby lay the foundation for the election of a republican to congress this fall. I am sincere in this belief, and a very large number of good democrats here, who know him, share me in that opinion. Above everything else, I want our party to succeed. I believe we have the best chance to elect Mr. Bryan that we have ever had, and I certainly hope we may elect a democratic congress to support him in his work. I do not believe that any good democrat would try to stir up strife and thereby play into the hands of the republicans.

I stated that I could not try to specifically deny all the stories he is telling, but I will notice one or two that he seems to be telling with the most persistence. He charges, I understand, that I was a candidate on the republican ticket for some office out in Kansas. The fact is, I never dreamed or thought of being a candidate for office on any ticket while I lived in Kansas, as the following affidavits of two as good men as live in Greene county and who lived in the same town with me while I lived in Kansas, will show.

State of Missouri, County of Greene—ss.

Everette E. Taylor, of lawful age, being first duly sworn, upon his oath states as follows:

My name is Everette E. Taylor and I reside in Greene county, Missouri. My postoffice address is R. F. D. No. 1, Springfield, Missouri; and I am engaged in farming.

I am well and intimately acquainted with C. W. Hamlin our present congressman from this district and I have been so acquainted with him for the last thirty odd years. I lived in the same county with Mr. Hamlin in Missouri and went with him to Kansas, and lived in the same town in Kansas with Mr. Hamlin during the entire time that he resided in said state; and I know that any report that he, Hamlin, was a candidate for any office on the republican ticket or any other ticket in Kansas is absolutely and unqualifiedly false.

I have known Mr. Hamlin well since before he was old enough to vote, and I know that he has always been an active fighting democrat.

EVERETT E. TAYLOR.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 21st day of July, 1908.

KIRK HAWKINS, Notary Public.

State of Missouri, County of Greene—ss.

Joseph P. Cox, of lawful age, being first duly sworn, upon his oath states as follows:

My name is Joseph P. Cox. I am a practicing physician located at Ebenezer, Greene county, Missouri. I have been intimately and well acquainted with C. W. Hamlin, the present congressman from this district, since about the year 1880. I was his family physician before he moved to Kansas and I removed to Kansas some few months before he did and I lived in the same town in Kansas, where he lived, during the whole time that Mr. Hamlin resided in that state; and I positively know that any report that Mr. Hamlin was a candidate on the republican ticket or any other ticket for office in the state of Kansas is absolutely false.

I do not hesitate to say that Mr. Hamlin has always been an active democrat.

JOSEPH P. COX, M. D.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 21st day of July, 1908.

KIRK HAWKINS, Notary Public.

I understand that he also charges that I, on the 20th day of last January, in the house, opposed the appropriation of money to prosecute the trusts, and that Congressman John W. Gaines, of Tennessee, denounced me on the floor of the house, as a "reactionary." The truth is, as shown by the Congressional Record of that date, we were not considering a bill to appropriate money to prosecute the trusts at all, but were considering the Urgent Deficiency Bill.

Mr. Gaines, of Tennessee, did not denounce me as a "reactionary" at all, but this charge is also wholly false, as the following letter from Mr. Gaines will show:

Nashville, Tenn., June 29, 1908.

Dear Hamlin:—I am very much astonished to learn that my words delivered in the house on January 30th, last, in my efforts to help you in a fight which you had begun in behalf of a faithful and vigorous execution of the law, should have been twisted into a charge that you are, or were then, a "reactionary." The charge is wholly untrue and unwarranted. I had no such thought in mind on that date, and never had, and I am at a loss to know how any person who is either fair or enlightened could have so perverted or misconstrued my remarks.

In constant attendance on the sessions of the house, ever watchful, courageous, intelligent, patriotic, and unbending in devotion to duty, your party, and the great mass of the people, you have uniformly proven to be a most useful and conspicuous member and democrat.

Your speeches demonstrate great research, high ideals and love of country, demanding as you always did the clean thing, better laws, and a vigorous enforcement of existing laws, you invariably commanded the attention and admiration of the democrats, and I very much regret that a democrat who has always had my confidence and respect, should have been the victim of an unwarranted criticism based upon my remarks, every word of which, knowing you as I do, I am satisfied you then endorsed and now stand for.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) JOHN W. GAINES.

Hon. C. W. Hamlin, Springfield, Mo.

I understand that he also charges that I failed to file some petitions which I should have filed. This charge is also wholly false. I filed all the petitions sent me and which I was entitled to file under the law.

I submit that if he will willfully misrepresent these facts, as he has, how can the people of the district believe anything he tells? My record in congress, it seems to me, ought to convince everyone of my democracy. I have never voted the republican ticket in my life and am sure Mr. Hamlin cannot say as much and tell the truth; but on the contrary, he would come nearer the truth if he should say that he never voted the democratic ticket in his life.

He solicited and was given the populist nomination for congress in this district against Judge Cooney eight years ago and now he has the audacity to question my democracy and ask the democrats of the district to send him to congress. The following letter from Mr. Wright, who was chairman of the populist convention at the time, speaks for itself:

Hon. C. W. Hamlin.

Dear Sir:—I see one S. A. Haseltine claims that he has always been a democrat. In 1900, S. A. Haseltine claimed he was a populist and went before the people's party convention in Sedalia, Mo., begging for the nomination for congress, which he got only after pledging himself to stay on the ticket and promising to make an active campaign. I was chairman of the convention and write this to correct one of his many misstatements.

Respectfully,

S. A. WRIGHT.

P. S.—Anyone who was at that convention will verify what is here stated.

In conclusion, I beg to say that I have always tried to serve you well and faithfully, and if you nominate me, you will find me fighting for the election of Mr. Bryan and the entire democratic ticket; and when elected trying to make a record in congress of which I trust you will not be ashamed.

Sincerely your friend,

C. W. HAMLIN.

• Among the Candidates •

The Democrat-Sentinel today pursues of the candidates who will b bishes under this head reasons whye voted on at the primary Tuesday should be elected.

The articles are condensed but aim to give in a nutshell the claims of each, as supplied by friends, who are interested in their individual success.

The new way of selecting party candidates is to be tried out, and naturally there will be, with the many names printed on the ticket, hesitation by some as to whom they should best vote for, and why. These short articles are designed to aid those who may have a doubt. Every voter should read carefully the claims made and will then be in a better position to vote more intelligently than they otherwise would.

W. S. Cowherd for Governor.

The nomination of a candidate for governor by the democrats is one of the gravest concern and highest importance. The state must be reformed, the "mysterious stranger" must not be given the reins of government in our state.

On this all democrats agree.

Then let us act with wisdom and sagacity.

Amongst the candidates offering, who is the most available? Who the best equipped?

Two years Mr. Cowherd served as mayor of Kansas City and eight years in the United States congress.

He is recognized as one of the foremost lawyers of the state.

His official record has never been assailed and stands today a monument to his integrity, industry and capability.

His personal character is as pure and high as that of any living man. His whole career, private and public, is without a stain, and his entire life is an open book.

As an orator and public speaker, he has no superior in the state.

His affable bearing and candid manner makes every man who meets him his friend, and no man once his friend has ever turned against him.

With Mr. Cowherd as our candidate, Missouri will not be classed even by the republicans as a doubtful state, and we will be assured of a democratic legislature and a democratic senator.

The other candidates are all honorable men, but if we would strike terror to the souls of the republicans and make sure the election of a democratic governor we must make Mr. Cowherd our standard bearer.

His training and experience have more than qualified him for this responsible position, and his official record is a monument to his integrity, industry and capability.

A vote for Cowherd is a vote for the best interests of the entire commonwealth.

Remember this when you cast your ballot on Tuesday.

William R. Painter for Lieutenant-Governor.

William R. Painter, of Carroll county, candidate for lieutenant governor on the democratic ticket, submitted his name to the voters of Sedalia and Pettis county for their consideration. Mr. Painter has been active in the councils of his party for years, having been chairman of the Carroll county committee for six years. He has never before been a candidate for office. His standing in his own county is best attested by the following resolution, unanimously adopted by the democrats of Carroll county:

"The democracy of Carroll county presents to the democracy of this state the name of William R. Painter for lieutenant governor. He has spent his life among us. We know him well. We give to the democracy and the people of this state our guarantee that he is a man of sterling worth and ability, whose reputation is above reproach and whose character is without stain or blemish, and if called upon by the suffrages of the people to discharge the duties of the office of lieutenant governor he will be fair, courageous, honest and impartial."

Anderson for Lieutenant-Governor.

Ben M. Anderson, of Columbia, Mo., is making a wonderful showing of strength in his race for the democratic nomination for lieutenant governor.

His record especially appeals to the labor element, from whom he is receiving much support because of the law protecting coal miners from unsafe timbers and dangerous mines, which he introduced and carried through while a member of the state senate, and because of his consistent advocacy of measures in behalf of the laboring classes. He is the author of the law for free tuition at the State University, since the passage of which the institution has increased its enrollment from less than 1,000 to over 2,500. He is the author of the law punishing with penitentiary imprisonment any secretary of a building and loan association who receives dues when the company is in a failing condition, a law which has driven every dishonest association of the sort out of the state. His record is strong. He is one of the best campaigners in the state, and his nomination would add strength to the state ticket.

Graves for Supreme Judge Strongly Endorsed by His Home Bar.

The members of the bar at Butler, Mo., have sent out the following letter, commending Hon. W. W. Graves for judge of the supreme court:

Butler, Mo., July 25, 1908. To the Members of the Bar of Missouri: As members of the bar of Bates county, the home of Hon. W. W. Graves, who for the past two years has been a member of the supreme court, we desire to say a word to our brother lawyers of the state in earnest and cordial endorsement of his candidacy to succeed himself.

During the six years Judge Graves was judge of this circuit, his decisions were so characterized by absolute fairness, fearlessness and signal ability, that when he left the bench it was with the unfeigned and profound regret of every lawyer in our circuit. The prediction was made when he went to the supreme bench that the lawyers of the state would find him, as we knew him to be, a profound and learned lawyer and a fearless, just and upright judge, has, we think, been verified by all who have followed his course and read his opinions. In our judgment, his nomination would mean the maintenance of the high standard of our supreme court, in which every lawyer who loves his profession is so vitally interested. He has served but a short time, filling out a vacancy, and we ask our brothers over the state to watch his interests in the August primary, to the end that he may be nominated for a full term. In supporting Judge Graves you will be giving aid not only to an able, pure and conscientious judge, but to an honorable and upright gentleman, whose private life and public acts will be vouched for by every one who knows him.

With the sincere hope that the members of the bar will receive this personal letter in the earnest spirit in which it is written, Very respectfully—Silas W. Dooley, W. O. Jackson, Miles D. Horn, B. F. Jeter, J. F. Smith, Carl J. Henry, Calvin F. Boxley, Harvey C. Clark, J. S. Francis, Thomas J. Smith, W. B. Dawson, T. W. Silvers, E. B. Liger, J. A. Silvers, D. C. Chastain.

Frank A. J. Hiller for Auditor.

Frank A. J. Hiller, of St. Louis, is a democratic candidate for state auditor. Mr. Hiller was raised on a farm in St. Louis county, and followed that vocation until 34 years of age. He removed to Barton county, and being well posted on economic questions, was elected lecturer of the Barton County Farmers' alliance. In 1881 he removed to St. Louis city. He found employment with a large firm as collector and employed his spare time reading law, and attended the Benton College of Law (a night school), from which institution he graduated with honor in 1900. In 1901, Mr. Player, comptroller of St. Louis, appointed him head clerk in the financial department, which position he held until appointed secretary of the board of health. He resigned this position two years ago and took up the practice of law, together with the real estate business.

Mr. Hiller has been an active and consistent democrat from the day he became of age, and has served on numerous party committees and taken the stump for his party in every campaign. His education and experience well fit him for the office he seeks.

He is popular and well known in St. Louis, and his name would add great strength to the party ticket in that section of the state.

Dierkes for Auditor.

The democrats of St. Louis county ought to support unanimously the candidacy of Bernard Dierkes, of St. Louis, for the democratic nomination for state auditor. Mr. Dierkes is our neighbor, and is an honest, clean-handed, thorough going American, a loyal and faithful party worker, whose long record in public and private life is without blot or blemish. These things are all said of him by those who know him best, and no doubt his nomination would add great strength to the party ticket. Mr. Dierkes is now serving his second term as city auditor of St. Louis.—Clayton Argus (St. Louis county.)

John O. Long for State Auditor.

The auditorship is the only place on the ticket sought by a South or Southeast Missourian, and the ticket distributed geographically over the state should and will appeal strongly to the democracy, insuring a full vote in November, which means success. Also ten years' experience as county clerk should make him a practical man for the important duties of auditor. Vote for Long for auditor.

R. L. Hall for Railroad Commissioner.

The endorsements that Richard L. Hall, of Springfield, has received in his candidacy for railroad commissioner speak more strongly than ordinary words as to his worth and ability for the position to which he aspires. He is a native Missourian and all his life has gone up and down among his people, making a record of which he may well be proud. For many years he has been a traveling man, and from these years of experience has learned very thoroughly just what is needed by the traveling and shipping public of his state. He is courageous and strong, and will not hesitate to do his full duty whenever occasion demands.

Those who know him best realize his worth and have not failed to go on record for him.

Here is part of what his home county democratic committee says of him:

"Fourth—We believe that the traveling man of the state and the interests which they represent are entitled to this consideration at the hands of the democratic party, and we further believe, if nominated, he will receive the vote of a large proportion of the traveling salesmen of this state, who, by their energy and industry, have been, and are doing as much to build up and to promote all of the substantial interests of the state."

Fifth—We pledge to him our support and earnestly commend his candidacy to all the voters of the state, believing that if nominated he will strengthen the ticket, and if elected will discharge the duties of the office in a manner which will reflect credit upon himself and upon the party and the people of the state."

A mass meeting of commercial travelers had this to say: "Whereas, We believe that Mr.

Hall's nomination would be a complement which he deserves, and that his election would be of immense advantage to the business interests of the state, without doing injustice to any other interest whatever, and

"Whereas, we know, from personal contact and long acquaintance that Mr. Hall is thoroughly qualified for the place he seeks, and will bring to the discharge of the duties of the office, if elected, business methods, strict integrity and thorough business knowledge, having in view the interests of all classes, and all interests."

A vote for "Dick" Hall would be for the best interests of every person in the state.

For Railroad Commissioner, N. J. Winters.

N. J. Winters, candidate for the democratic nomination for railroad commissioner is a resident of Milan.

Sullivan county, and he was born and raised within twenty miles of where he now lives. He has served the people of his home county as sheriff and county clerk, and for four times was elected a member of the democratic state committee of his congressional district. All his life he has been engaged in the shipping business and knows the wants of those who use the railways, and knows also where improvements can be made in the methods now employed.

Knowing where abuses exist and wrongs are committed against the public, he knows also what remedies are needed and how to apply them.

As a democrat he is true to his party and its principles and as an honest and upright citizen he would enforce all measures for the good of his people. Don't forget to leave his name on your ballot.

Has been long identified with the interests of the city and county and is safe and conservative.

Hon. E. E. Johnston, Democratic Candidate for Representative, secured appropriations for the State Fair in Sedalia, amounting to two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000), a great benefit to property owners and business men. If nominated August 4th, and elected in November, expects to secure an appropriation for the erection of buildings and other general improvement of the Fair grounds.

His Compulsory School Attendance bill has brought into the schools in the state fifty thousand children who never attended school before. "See State Superintendent of Schools for reference.

Mr. Johnston was instrumental in placing county attorneys on a salary, thus saving the taxpayers of Sedalia and Pettis County thousands of dollars by the elimination of the fee system.

OUTLAWRY IS RAMPANT

and tables, and liquor was served to all comers, regardless of age or sex. Men, women and children were in an unruly stage of intoxication. Girls 13 and 14 years old, danced with men much their senior and drank between dances. Back, some distance, was a place where rooms were rented and drinks served. In calling for drinks no subterfuge was necessary, the lid was off and no mistake. Waiters openly commented with the guests on the advantages of personal liberty there and assured them of freedom from interference from county authorities.

Since the governor first began to enforce the lid law, the saloonkeepers of the county, who had the sympathy of the executive officers of the county, have held an attitude of defiance. Grand juries would indict, but through the influence of the prosecuting attorney and sheriff practically all prosecutions failed.

As a result there has never been a dry Sunday in the county. Twice have the citizens called on the attorney general of the state to stop the violations, and once charges of dereliction of duty were filed against the sheriff and prosecuting attorney, but were dismissed. Two weeks ago Assistant Attorney General Kennish obtained injunctions in the county circuit court to prevent five of the most notorious places from violating the law, which was a proceeding without precedent in the state. The restraining order was granted on the ground that the dives were public nuisances. The county grand jury has at this sitting returned fifty indictments in to court, but with all this most of the saloons were running wide open as usual last Sunday. Dance halls and wine caves are dotted over the county at all pleasure resorts. Drunken men and women frequent these places.

One of the county officials is under fire by the grand jury now, and several witnesses who are in a position to know of graft have been examined.

Assistant Attorney General Kennish is in Jefferson City and will not return to Clayton until August 13, when the injunction cases come up. The grand jury has adjourned and will not be in session again until August 10. The assistant prosecuting attorney of St. Louis county says that when the grand jury reconvenes he will ask that body to sit for several weeks longer and will request the county authorities to give him a permanent grand jury.

"The only way to fight this business is by injunction and indictment, and if we had a continuous grand jury we could gradually enforce the lid," says Assistant Prosecutor Mills.

"In Wellston, last Sunday, there was one saloon that had no license doing business. The front door was closed, but the back and side entrances were open, and all comers were served. Lookouts were stationed near the place and when the officers came in sight, they gave an alarm and the place was instantly closed. When the deputies passed the side doors were again opened and business resumed. This is the condition practically all over the county, except in places where even this slight respect to the law is ignored and the front doors are open. Cars to the county are crowded from early morning until after midnight. The law eluding citizens are responsible for Assistant Attorney General Kennish being here last week, and may appeal to the governor for state troops to enforce the law."

A Winning Speech.

She was white with indignation. "You shall never go down to that horrid club again, James Henry."

"But, Martha, I—"

"Never mind. You heard what I said. You must remember when I bring my foot down on anything it bears weight."

"Nonsense!"

"What? You mean to ridicule my assertion, James Henry Butler?"

"Oh, no, my dear. I merely wished to remark that a foot as small as the one you possess could not possibly bear weight."

There was a long pause.

"You really think so, James? Well, now, aren't you both clever and truthful? I believe I will let you go down to the club to-night if you'll promise to come home real early."

Stimulants Used by Men of Genius.

Socrates, Plato and Horace drank wine freely; Fielding, Sterne and Steel sat too long over their cups, and Byron sought inspiration in Holland gin. Burns was a tippler, Shelley drank heavily and Keats, stung by the criticism of his foes, turned for relief to dissipation. Our own greatest poet, Edgar Allan Poe, though greatly maligned in this regard, found inspiration for some of his gloomiest and wildest poetry and prose when under the influence of burgundy.

Voltaire in his old age drank fifty cups of coffee a day, and Balzac depended upon the beverage to sustain him during his hours of toil. Johnson was excessively fond of tea. Hazlett, the writer and critic, consumed of tea about a pound a week. It is said to have hastened his death.

Mr. and Mrs. Huckins Are Parents.

WORKING SMOOTH GAME

Allegation Made That Couple of Sedalians Are "Badgering" Young Men.

Complaint was made at police headquarters Saturday that a young married couple of this city, well known in East Sedalia, are resorting to the tactics of the notorious "badger" game with the intention of victimizing "suckers" out of money and valuables.

The man in question is employed on one of the railways out of this city, while his wife is frequently seen on the streets. On more than one occasion the woman in question has agreed to meet certain young men of this city and at the designated time the irate husband appears and demands restitution.

In several cases the man in the case has confronted his wife's escort several days after the meeting.

One of the plain-clothes men has been detailed on the case, and very likely further developments will result.

"This tree seems to be loaded with apples," observed the Washingtonian, indicating a particularly fine specimen.

"Yes, sir," assented the little girl; "father says this is a good year for apples."

"I am glad to hear that," said the visitor. "Are all your trees as full of apples as this one?"

"No, sir," explained the girl, "only the apple trees."—Harper's Weekly.

Of the 100,000,000 horses known to exist in the world, 80,000,000 or four-fifths of the entire number are found in the temperate zone and nearly all among the occidental people.

"Try to get strength of heart to look yourself fairly in the face in mind as well as body. WERE 101,466 IDLE PERSONS

For Three Months in New York, Says the State Commissioner.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 1.—The report of State Labor Commissioner John Williams, based on reports received quarterly from labor unions and other sources of information, has just been made public.

There were 101,466, or 26.2 per cent, who had no work at all during January, February and March. In 1897 the percentage of labor union members out of work for 24.8 for the first quarter of that year, but the total number reported idle then was only 35,381.

For the generally prosperous decade, 1896 to 1907, the mean percentage of idleness at the end of March was 17.5 and the percentage of continuous idleness for the first quarter was 14.

"Lack of work" is given as the cause of the greater idleness of 1908.

RUMBLINGS OF THE RAIL

HOURS OF SERVICE LAW IS ATTACKED BY AN EASTERN RAILWAY LINE.

COACH, CAB AND CABOOSE ITEMS

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources for the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

The New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad company has filed a complaint in the United States circuit court at Hartford, Conn., against the interstate commerce commission, attacking the law passed by the last congress, entitled "An act to promote the safety of employees and travelers on railroads by limiting the hours of service of employees thereon."

The complaint charges that neither by the act of March 4, 1907, nor any other act of congress of the United States has the interstate commerce commission been invested with authority and power to require the making by the New Haven or any other carrier of regulations of the character called for, and in consequence of such want of power and authority the said order of the commission is not a lawful one.

The New Haven company asks for an order calling upon the defendant to appear and show cause why the relief asked for should not be granted, and also for an order setting aside and nullifying the order of the commission, and perpetually enjoining it from enforcing such order.

Will Not Discuss Grievances.

President Truesdale has refused the switchmen's request for a conference on the troubles of the Buffalo division of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad. Grand Master Hawley, of the Switchmen's union, said afterward that a strike declaration seems inevitable.

After receiving President Truesdale's refusal the grievance board went into executive session Friday to discuss the prospects of bringing in outside influences to avert a strike. This is the first time President Truesdale has refused to meet a committee of the employees and his answer cast a gloom over the committee, who were confident that he would meet with them and listen to their side of the dispute.

Many Patients Were Treated.

The largest number of patients from the Missouri Pacific railway ever treated at the M., K. & T. railway hospital during a single month was treated during the month of July, when eighty patients were registered. Forty-eight of these were treated medically and thirty-two surgically. This number was materially augmented on account of the head-end collision near Knobnoster on July 2, which necessitated the treatment of twenty-one victims of the wreck at the hospital.

Gould on Harriman's Train?

When E. H. Harriman starts west on his private train tomorrow, if reports are true, George Gould's private car will be attached to the Harriman train, says a New York dispatch of Friday.

It is said that Mr. Gould will go with Mr. Harriman on a tour of inspection over the Wheeling & Lake Erie, the Wabash-Pittsburg terminal and the Wabash railroads, in which Mr. Harriman and the Union Pacific are now deeply interested.

No Spitting on Floor.
